COMMENT and RUMOR

The war appears to be going well on most fronts. Progress in Italy is slow but we are knocking the devil out of Berlin and making it darn unpleasant for the Japs in the mid-Pacific. The offensive is great in the Marshall, Gilbert, Abemanea and Makin island area. More power to our men of the Navy, Marines and Army.

If the powers in Washington are looking for a man to put in charge at Tule lake we recommend that one of our citipens who has tasted prison life in Japan or China under jurisdiction of Japanese militarists be given the job. Stern measures are what is needed.

One of our readers suggests it would be a good idea for air raid wardens to investigate or challenge people in their area before their imagination gets away with them and they report prowlers or maybe a saboteur. If you see a man in the back yard walking around queerly, look over the fence to see if he is exercising his dog, before calling the police or telling the neighbors there's a prowler about. False rumors only scare lone women.

ANOTHER FISH STORY

Editor Ocean Beach News

Dear Sir:

I have just read the fish story as related by Wilhoit and Plant. I think it was coined from the old story of the wife who said to her husband: "John, I do wish you would go out and shoot something. I'm dead tired of meat." So John reached for his double barrel gun. The first thing he saw was a flock of wild pigeons. He thought, "pigeon pie is pretty good, I'll try my luck." So he took aim and shot out a ram rod which caught 60 pigeons—every one right through the eye.

As John could shorten the walk home by wading a brook, he took the short cut. It was at a time of the year when the brook was full of fish. They filled his pants from top to bottom and were so heavy in the rear, that when he stepped out on the bank a button flew off and killed a mink.

Very truly yours
Josephine F. Drew, R. N.
(retired).

This reminds us of another story, told as the truth at Faber's market. One of the lady customers had regularly been buying Mim's pet food for the cat. When getting an additional supply she told about her husband coming home hungry the evening previous and helping himself to some hash in the refrigerator. He warmed it up and said when friend wife came home: "That was sure good hash you made yesterday, I ate it all up." "Well my dear, that was cat food" said the wife, "and your hash is still in the refrigerator." The man turned sick but the food had been down too long for a return journey.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The annual Thanksgiving service was conducted on Thursday in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston. The following verses from Psalms were the Golden Text: "What shall I render unto the Lord for all his benefits toward me? . . . I will offer to thee the sacrifice of thanksgiving, and will call upon the name of the Lord."

"Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto my Father," said Jesus in a Lesson-Sermon passage from John's Gospel. And he added, "Whatsoever ye shall ask in my name, that will I do, . . . If ye love me, keep my commandments . . . he that loveth me shall be loved of my Father, and I will love him, and will manifest myself to him."

Mary Baker Eddy said in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures:" "What we most need is the prayer of fervent desire for growth in grace, expressed in patience, meekness, love, and good deeds. To keep the commandments of our Master and follow his example, is our proper debt to him and the only worthy evidence of our gratitude for all that he has done."

Testimonies pertinent to the Thanksgiving season were given by Christian Scientists in the congregation.

Book Week Celebration at Dana Junior High

National Book Week was celebrated at Dana junior high school with a story book parade assembly sponsored by the librarian, Miss Florence Wainwright, Thursday and Friday, Nov. 18th and 19th. Sixty students "dressed up" as their favorite book characters and joined the story book parade. As the students stepped through the frame of a book which had been set up in the center of the stage, they recited a two-line rhyme about the book characters they represented. Cameron Sellar of the shop department designed and made the book frames and supervised from his mechanical drawing classes in printing and painting a title-page. Mrs. Wolfe of the art department sent two of her talented students, Judy Dilbeck and Pat Cline, to the library to draw the very charming picture for the book. Judy drew the boy, and Pat, the girl seen reading a book in the picture.

Miss Ann Craig of the English department presented some of her students in brief scenes from favorite books. Appearing in Treasure Island were: Barton Miller, Jerry Graves, Vernon Farrell, Woodford Peebles, Patsy McClanahan. In the cast of Robin Hood were: Harold Heathcock, Jimmie Moffett and Wallace Harrison. Taking parts from The Count of Monte Crisco were: Yvonne Bevan, Jerry Graves, and Herbert Wiggin. In the cast for Mary Poppins were: Virginia Janney, Tommy Brown, Beverly Hoy.

Miss Marjorie Davis of the English department presented seven of her students who had written outstanding essays on the subject: My Favorite Book. Students who read their essays during the assemblies were: Lorna Morefield who wrote about the Bible; Betsy Jones who wrote about Little Women; Don Shira who read his essay on the subject of the Encyclopedia; Ann Odinot's essay was about Eight Cousins; June Belloff wrote about Little Women; Beverly Brittingham's was about Sue Barton, Visiting Nurse, and Dick Rye wrote on his favorite type of books—horse stories.

Mrs. Evelyn Fetter, English teacher, selected two of her students to read their essays. These students were Joan Menogue who wrote about Little Women, and Walter Turner who wrote about Boy Scouts in the Wilderness.

As a special added attraction at the Thursday assemblies, the library had the honor of presenting Mrs. Fannie Jessop Sherman, wife of Vice-Admiral Sherman, formerly Commander of the U. S. S. Lexington. Mrs. Sherman wrote the popular children's book Admiral Wags of the U. S. S. Lexington, which concerns the adventures of the family cocker spaniel on board that ship. She entertained with an account of Admiral Wag's part in the ceremonies when the ship passed through the equator zone. Admiral Wags also performed tricks for his audience and completely won their hearts with his engaging personality.

Students who appeared in the story book parade were.

Grace Pillow, as Queen of Bookland; Jim Prather, as Huckleberry Finn; Diana Watson, as A Friend of Smokey; Betty Jean McMullen, as Raggedy Ann; Joan Menogue as an Hawaiian Girl from Hawaiian Holiday; Harriet Anderson as Yankee Ballerina; Kenneth Gardner, as Robin Hood; Alice Jane George, as Sue Barton, rural nurse; Jimmy Hart and Jimmie Hunter as Marines from Guadalcanal diary; Lea Jo Culver, as Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch; Cy Herbert as a pirate in Treasure Island; Deirdre Shannon, as Pegeen; Charlene Ryder, as Sue Barton, senior nurse; Barbara Foran, as Meggy MacIntosh; Laurney Stoner as Sherlock Holmes; Joseph Jessop, as Dr. Watson; Shirley Beck, as Sue Barton, visiting nurse; Marion Brannon as an Hawaiian girl from Mutiny on the Bounty; Doreen McCann as Scheherazade from the Arabian Nights; Robert Clark as Ambassador Joseph Davies, in Mission to Moscow; Joan Jefferson, as Mammy in Gone With the Wind; Pag Wagner, as Kate, in Hobby Horse; Jan Orloff, as Peggy Covers the News; Tommy Maxon, from Here Comes the Marines; Mary Belle Brewer, as Alice in Wonderland; Arlene Williams as Hollywood Starlet; Kenneth Flickinger, as Huckleberry Finn; Pat Cline, as Anne Pavlova in Dancing Star; Glenn Roe as Penrod; Joan Smith as Brenda, in Saddle and Bridle; Gloria Crook as Florence Nightingale; June Belloff, as An Old Fashioned Girl; Beverly Scott, as Juanita; Buddy Bashom, as a Marine in The Courage and the Glory; Nancy Wilhelm, as Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm; Margaret Mason as Mountain Girl; Walter Craft as Daniel Boone; Betty Conant as Penny Marsh, Public Health Nurse; Barbara Goeb, as Little Eva in Uncle Tom's Cabin; Edward Wallace as Jody in The Yearling; Barbara Timmons as Carmelita; Richard Snyder as Tom Sawyer; Betty Timmons, as Black Beauty; George Brolaski jr., as Joe and Diamond, his dog as Lassie-Come-Home; Harriet Thompson as Shirley Clayton, Secretary.

Stanley Kistler was master of ceremonies for the program, Robert McCandless had charge of the public address system, and Harrison Webster was stage manager.

Assisting the librarian in directing the student were Diane Carmone, Charlotte Hively, Almira Stazione, Joan Steinman, Shirley Silva, Doris Sebastian, Mildred Weddle, Corinne Jones, Francis Wisdom, and Virginia Judson.

The monthly meeting of the block plan leaders will be held on Wednesday, Dec. 1st in the chamber of commerce building, at 10 a. m. Mrs. David A. Fraser will preside and one of the speakers will be Chaplain Wm. A. Maguire, famed for "passing the ammunition." He will speak on conditions facing American troops when he served at Guadalcanal.

Many men now in our hospitals will be unable to do Christmas shopping so the block plan is asking for Christmas cards so the patients may write to families and friends. Please donate to this cause as it will add greatly to their Christmas morale. Mrs. Fraser will receive them at her office or deliver them to your district leader, 4645 Saratoga ave.

Don't forget to turn in your boxes before Dec. 1st. We need many more. We owe these boys so much. Let's do all we can to give them the best Christmas we can under these trying circumstances.

Red Cross needs the help of every womas on the beach who can sew by hand or has a machine. Please come to 4769 Del Monte ave. or call B-5639. We have utility bags that must be made immediately and Red Cross will fill them with the necessary articles. The beach unity has made 162 to date but we need so many more. Don't let our boys down at Christmas.

We have altar cloths cut and hems pressed that we would like made by those that can do hand sewing. Those who will sew and have no machines will find a work room and machines at the Red Cross unit, 4769 Del Monte. Please do your part. The wo-mes of Ocean Beach have been wonderful in responding to our call and already seven Red Cross pins have been given to workers.

Right now hospital pajamas are badly needed. These are all cut and ready to sew. Make the sleeve cloths of double faced outing flannel, wool or any thing that will polish nicely. These are 4 in. wide and 18 inches long, pink the edges. The wash cloths can be made from used towels.

Admiral Blakely is ready now to give out service ribbons so will each block leader let her sector leader know how many hours she has worked since we turned in our blue cards some time ago. New leaders turn their hours in to Mrs. Miller at B-3066. Bring your time up to Dec. 1st, 1943.

Mrs. Evelyn Gregg held a sector meeting for Mrs. Heidbrink on Nov. 15th. Mrs. Heidbrink was to arrive home on Monday, Nov. 22.

Mrs. Metlock held her meeting on the 16th as did Mrs. Larson of sector F. At Mrs. Larson's meeting they made Christmas decorations.

Mrs. Bremer held her meeting on Nov. 23rd.

Mrs. Ona Pitcock held a block leaders meeting Wednesday, Nov. 24th.

Many other meetings were held but as my space in the "News" is limited will give them next week.

BIRTHS

To Mr. and Mrs. John R. Benedict, 4314 Orchard ave., a daughter, Nov. 4.

To Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Walter, 4903 Brighton, a son, Oct. 25.

BIRTH ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Paul B. Craft announce the birth of an 8-pound son, Ronald Alan, at Mercy hospital, Nov. 16. They have a 2-year-old son, Paul Dean.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. George W. Craft and Mr. and Mrs. George Simpson, of Mission Beach. Mrs. Craft was Jean Simpson before her marriage.

Mrs. J. E. Woodworth entertained 25 members of the Hiker's club last Friday evening at her home on Etiwanda. Henry Tibbetts led the group on a three-mile hike. All had an enjoyable time.

Discarded Clothes Drive Next Week

San Diegans will be asked to give their discarded clothing to the people of the liberated nations in a concentrated 10-day campaign, which will open here next Monday, according to officials of the salvage committee of the city civilian defense council.

Complete details for the drive were received her by L. M. Nichols and Virgil Wyatt, co-chairmen of the salvage committee, who have already made arrangements with the block leaders of the civilian defense council, the city schools, members of the Parents-Teachers association, and the San Diego association of Dry Cleaners to jointly participate in the campaign.

More than 5000 notices are being mailed this morning by Mrs. David Fraser, head of the women's block plan, to key leaders throughout the city, so that 80,000 families will be asked to cooperate in what Nichols termed "the great humanitarian task of helping our unfortunate fellow-citizens in the liberated countries." These block leaders will assist in assembling the discarded garments in their particular area, and see that the bundles are taken to the nearest secondary or elementary school.

Speedily agreeing to assist in the drive, Superintendent Will C. Crawford has asked the teachers of the city's 56 schools to urge their students to "bring at least one garment from home for the homeless kiddies of the unfortunate nations over there." Crawford also advised the principals of the school to provide suitable quarters where the people may deposit the clothing pending the preliminary sorting by leaders of the P.-T.A.

The collection will end on Wednesday, Dec. 8, and the P.-T.A. leaders at the various schools will make preliminary sorting during the last three days of the drive.

The government is asking for all garments except men's and boys' hats, caps, shoes, leather gloves, neckties, garters, rubbers, overshoes, galoshes, slippers, collars, suspenders, belts, spats, leather leggins, rubber coats, rubber boots, masquerade costumes, and women's and girls' hats, caps, shoes, leather gloves, brassieres, girdles, rubbers, overshoes, galoshes, slippers, corsets, gartar belts, belts, garters, veils, leather leggins, rubber coats, rubber boots, and masquerade costumes. Also not wanted are infants' shoes, rubbers, overshoes, diapers, salvage officials said. Call M-9070 for additional information.

At the Hartvigsen home were Mrs. Chas. Wylie jr., and Mr. Wylie, their two sons, Eddie and Jimmy, and Mrs. Gertrude Moody, Mrs. Wylie's school chum.

First Grade in School Has Large Increase; Urge Economy Program

There were 6,862 children enrolled in the first grade of the public schools of San Diego county during 1942-43, compared with 4,808 for 1939-40, California Taxpayers' association stated Monday, making public its preliminary forecast of school enrollments in California for the rest of the current decade. The school year 1939-40 is the low point since 1919-20 for statewide first grade enrollments.

The 3,457 children born in the county during the calendar year 1933, together with migration, made up the first grade enrollments of 1939-40, six and one-half years later, the association stated. Births during 1936, which formed the base for the 1942-43 first grade, numbered 3,890 in the county. Births for 1941, the latest year for which data are available, total 6,396.

The small crop of 75,229 Californians born during 1933 resulted in the low 1939-40 first grade enrollment of 109,450, the association found. In 1936, 84,460 children were born in California the base for the 1942-43 first grade enrollment of about 125,000. Births in 1942 were up to 153,120 and may reach 175,000 this year. First grade enrollments will probably climb throughout this decade, until by 1949-50 they may number between 236,000 and 273,000. Increases in the other grades will follow.

"While state-wide enrollments will increase, areas where population is decreasing may show decreases," the association warned, urging civic leaders, school administrators, and P.-T.A. leaders to study their local situations and be guided accordingly.

"Cut operating costs, delete nonessential expenditures, tighten administrative practices, root out costly activities of questionable value, and improve operating procedures generally," the association urged, pointing out that if costs are cut to a minimum now, when new construction and added instruction are needed the people will be better able to pay the cost.

Surgical Dressing Unit At Pt. Loma Assembly

The San Diego chapter of Red Cross has recently established a new surgical dressing unit at Point Loma. Mrs. E. A. Sutton, who for two years has worked as a surgical dressing supervisor, one year of which she acted as vice-president in charge of the headquarters unit in Balboa park, has accepted the chairmanship of the center. Mrs. Sutton has assisting her Mrs. R. E. Werlich and Mrs. Robert Isreal as supervisors. The workroom is at the Point Loma Assembly clubhouse at 3035 Talbot st.

Surgical dressings are made on Wednesdays of each week from 9:30 in the mornings to 3:30 o'clock. Volunteer workers are invited to join the group. Those who can spare but a few hours time can give a very helpful service. For the benefit of those who can give the day and bring their luncheon, hot tea will be served during the lunch hour.

All workers on surgical dressings are required to wear a wash dress and a head covering. Head coverings can be purchased at the surgical dressing unit for 30 cents.

Mrs. Frances Neill, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Max Sterne, on Thanksgiving day.

Kiwanians Told Of Synthetic Rubber

President-elect Glen Jones was program chairman at Ocean Beach Kiwanis last Tuesday evening, having as guest speaker J. A. Stewart, field representative the tire division Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co.

Mr. Stewart gave the interesting story of Chemigum, Goodyear's synthetic rubber, by illustrated slides and recordings. For 20 years, he said this company has been experimenting and making synthetic rubber and have made great progress since 1937. In the last six months they have had a big advance in production and with other manufacturers are working on synthetic production as well, the speaker said this program was far ahead of plans a year ago. Two liquids were brought along and demonstrated, the one being latex and the other a coagulator, by mixing the two and a nominal amount of stirring, genuine synthetic rubber was produced in but a few seconds.

Most members were interested in tire production which the visitor stated were now put out in A, B and C graces. The top grades go for army trucks, B grade for civilian trucks and C grade for passenger automobiles, the latter being 100 per cent synthetic.

Miss Mary Trushinki, with her accordion, furnished accompaniment for Kiwanis songs, as well as a number of solo selections.

The Kiwanis division meet was announced for Dec. 6th and will be at the Women's clubhouse in San Diego.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Nazis Wreck Northern Italian Ports To Hamper Future Allied Operations; United Nations Formulate Relief Plan; U. S. Issues Current Casualty Figures

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Allied Pact—Seated around conference table from left to right, U. S. Secretary of State Cordell Hull; Russian Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov, and British Foreign Minister Anthony Eden, sign historic pact in Moscow, calling for League of Nations to preserve postwar peace. Said Hull: "We agreed upon a broad, basic program of international co-operation. The program contemplates the hastening of victory . . ., the preservation of peace, and the promotion of human welfare . . ."

ITALY:
Destroy Ports

Italy's northern ports of Leghorn and Pescara were blocked by Nazi demolition squads to render them useless to the Allies for future operations, or in the event Gen. Dwight Eisenhower attempted landings above Rome to trap elements of five German divisions holding out in the mountainous country to the south.

Principal action in Italy centered on the Fifth army front, where Lieut. Gen. Mark Clark's mixed British and U. S. forces were edging forward at the mountain passes at Mignano, to gain the long, level valley leading to Rome.

Once General Clark's warriors burst through at Mignano, they still will have to buck elaborate Nazi mountain fortresses farther up the valley at Cassino, which stands some 60 miles from Rome. Because Allied troops must clamber up rugged slopes in the face of entrenched enemy machine gunners and mortars, and U. S. artillery must rake whole mountain sides to clear out Nazi posts, progress necessarily is slow.

Fit Italy Into War

To get Italy functioning on the side of the Allies, Gen. Dwight Eisenhower established a control commission headed by Maj. Gen. Kenyon Joyce, formerly of the 9th service command.

Purpose of the commission will be to fit the country's agriculture and industry into Allied war plans, and to regulate Italian governmental administration.

To prevent any political party from establishing its hold over the country through military force, the commission will control Italy's revived fighting services.

Advising the commission will be the U. S., British, Russian and French committee on Mediterranean affairs, and Greece and Jugoslavia will be included later.

WORLD RELIEF:
Allied Plans

Assembling in the east room of the White House, representatives from 44 United Nations signed an agreement for the relief and rehabilitation of Europe, with each country providing supplies to the limit of its capacity.

Herbert Lehman

Of the 46 million tons of food, seed, fuel, clothing, raw materials, machinery and medical supplies that will be needed for European relief during the six months following the war, the U. S. will furnish nearly 9½ million tons, Great Britain 3½ million tons, Europe 29 million tons, and other regions 4 million tons. Congress will appropriate the funds for American participation.

Slated for appointment as director general of the relief and rehabilitation administration was former Governor Herbert Lehman of New York. Purpose of the administration is to tide over distressed people of reconquered areas until they can put their factories and land back into production.

CROPS:
Weather Helps

Profiting from favorable weather, the 1943 corn crop was estimated at 3 billion, 85 million bushels by the department of agriculture on the basis of conditions November 1. This compared with last year's record crop of 3 billion, 175 million bushels.

With October weather good and without widespread frosts, the large acreage of late corn reached maturity in Iowa, Missouri, northwestern Ohio, and parts of Michigan and Indiana. Checking summer drouths, rains perked up late corn in the South Central states. Record yields were in prospect for the Northwest.

Other crop estimates for 1943: Wheat, 835,816,000 bushels; oats, 1,148,692,000; barley, 330,212,000; rye, 33,314,000; flaxseed, 51,486,000; soy beans, 206,017,000; rice, 69,019,000; potatoes, 469,092,000; sugar beets, 7,239,000 tons, and peanuts, 2,681,955,000 pounds—record highs for rice, potatoes and peanuts.

Hogs Crowd Markets

Chicago's sprawling stockyards teemed with over 60,000 live hogs after a high three-day shipment of 128,500 head, which compared with 85,552 for the previous week and 66,418 for the same period of 1942.

As a result, packers paid the "floor" of $13.75 for only the heavier weights out of the 200 to 275 pound range on which the government has pledged price support. Packers obtained many bargains in classes for which no "floor" has been constructed.

So called "floor" prices were high on the flooded market, equalling the lowest tops since last December

SOUTHWEST PACIFIC:
At Japs' Rear

Pursuing his policy of pinching off Japanese strongholds in the Southwest Pacific by cutting off their communications, Gen. Douglas MacArthur has established U. S. forces to the rear of the enemy's important forward base of Buin on Bougainville island in the Solomons.

With U. S. marines and doughboys standing astride the Japs' communication lines leading to Buin, they were in position to strike against the enemy supplies, and his main body from the rear.

Bougainville is the Japs' last important holding in the Solomons, and apparently they were determined to take advantage of the wild nature of the humid, tropical isle for another long, delaying action.

U. S. CASUALTIES:
Total 120,967

U. S. casualties totaled 120,967 for almost two years of war, with the army reporting 89,648, and the navy 31,317.

Of the army casualties, 12,841 were killed, 30,263 wounded, 23,952 missing and 22,592 prisoners. Since the landing at Salerno, September 9, the U. S. suffered 8,556 casualties in Italy, with 1,295 killed, 4,764 wounded and 2,497 missing.

Of the navy casualties, 12,548 are dead, 5,542 wounded, 8,999 missing, and 4,228 prisoners.

Of the nearly 7,700,000 men in the army, about 2,500,000 men will be serving abroad by the end of the year.

HIGHLIGHTS . . . in the week's news

TIGERS: The Detroit Tigers baseball club will go to Evansville, Ind., for their spring training period.

COAL: The emergency regulations on delivery of soft coal have been relaxed, Secretary Ickes announced. As modified, the rules state that a dealer cannot sell coal to a customer who has 30 days supply on nand.

RAISE: With the new increase allowed by the War Labor board, test pilot inspectors will earn about $410 a month. A $4 an hour bonus was allowed for this extremely hazardous work.

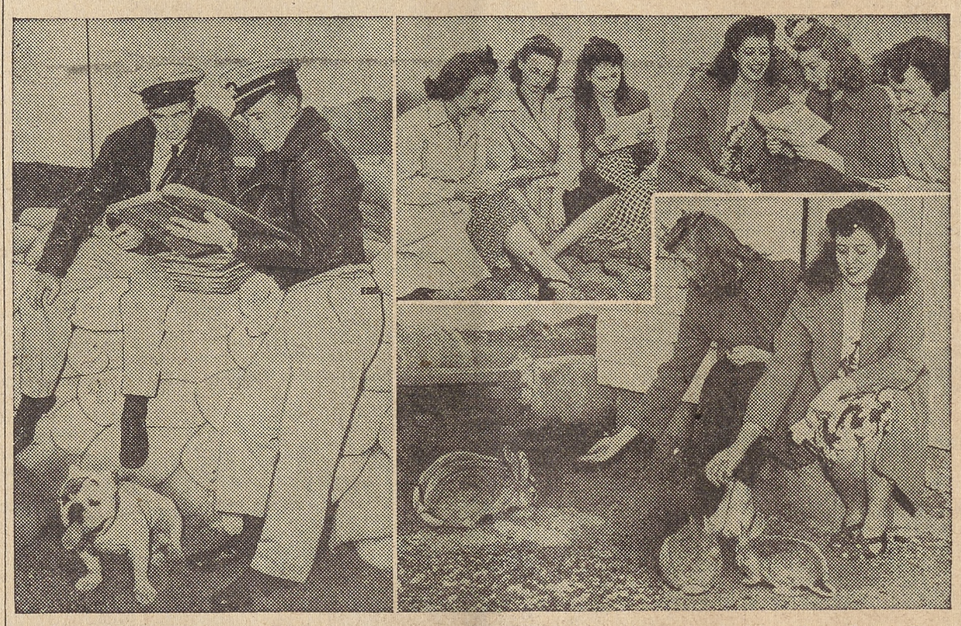

DIAMOND: A 530 carat diamond, "probably the eighth largest ever found," has been dug up in Sierre Leone, British colony on the west coast of Africa.

Wounded American Prisoners Reach Allied Port

Repatriated from prison camps in Germany, wounded American fighters are shown as they reached Allied soil at Leith, Scotland. Left: One of the first Americans to be brought ashore was Sergt. John Gardner. Right: Many of these men are fliers who fell into German hands when their crafts were downed.

Coastguardsmen's Wives Keep House in Pacific

On the Farallon Islands, 32 miles from the coast of San Francisco, five wives of coastguardsmen keep house for their husbands. Their only means of transportation to the mainland is the weekly trip of the lighthouse service ship. Left: Warrant Radio Electrician George B. Warwick (right) and Chief Motor Machinist's Mate Frank Barnett, first and second in command respectively. Top Right: Wives of the coastguardsmen are (left to right) Mrs. Maxine Smith, Mrs. Betty Barnett, Mrs. Gloria Dunn, Mrs. Sara Hewett, Mrs. Betty Barnes, and Mrs. Eileen Spears. Mrs. Barnett has a little daughter with whom she lives on the mainland. Bottom Right: Rabbits abound on the Farallon Islands.

Children Give Thanks for Deliverance

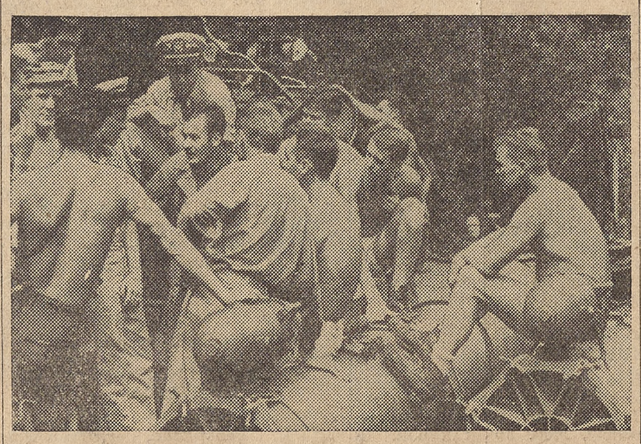

Although the words are not uttered in English they could readily be understood by a casual observer as these Polish refugee children say grace at a camp in Santa Anita, Calif. They are some of the 300 Polish refugee children who are on their way to Mexico where they will remain for the duration as wards of the Polish government in exile.

Morning After the Night Before

The morning after a night raid on Japanese objectives in the South Pacific, members of a patrol torpedo boat crew discuss the battle. This picture was made at a concealed base in New Guinea where the "Green Dragons," as the Japs call the PT boats, hide out between forays. The men are leaning on a torpedo tube.

The Nativity

By H. I. Phillips

AT THAT time: There went forth a decree from the Caesars that the whole world should be enrolled, catalogued and hewn to a pattern; that there should be a census of resources and arms and philosophies. And all went to be enrolled, every one unto his own city; and Joseph also went up from Galilee out of the city of Nazareth into Judea, which is called Bethlehem, because he was of the house and family of David, to be enrolled with Mary, his espoused wife, who was with child.

And it came to pass, that when they were there, her days were accomplished that she should be delivered. And she brought forth her first-born child, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger, because there was no room for them at the inn. And there was a darkness over the inn now and sounds of quarreling; and across the lighted windows lunged clumsy figures, shouting.

The warlords were in the inn sumptuously quartered, lolling in fine chairs in their stockinged feet, their muddy boots on the beds. The Dictators were there too. They had taken the whole first floor months ahead and were now bellowing orders to the servants. And they could be heard complaining that their patience was being exhausted. Greed was in the inn, sprawled across a great bed. Covetousness and Cupidity were swaggering about the hall, laughing coarsely. Hatred had taken over a double room and could be heard snarling at Envy and Intolerance, who claimed to have a prior right to the large chamber with double windows.

And in the corridors of the first floor a great bully of a man slashing about with a sword, reviling his companions, and boasting of some book he had written about conquering all mankind and reducing those who did not agree with him to slavery. This man was called Conquest and he was demanding a great front suite where he could have more breathing space. And nowhere within the inn was there Love, Kindliness, Faith, Hope or Charity.

Now there were in the country humble people with no hate in their hearts, keeping the faith, watching over their own and affrighted by the horrors that were about them and by the drone of bombers that passed overhead blotting out the glory of the stars; and they were weary of ultimatums and threats and challenge and counter challenge, and sick of heart at the corruption of mind and spirit.

And behold an Angel of the Lord stood over them, and the brightness of God shone round and said, "Fear not: for behold I bring you good tidings of great joy that shall be to all people: for this day is born to you a Saviour, who is Christ the Lord, in the city of David, and who is the Prince of Peace, the Deliverer of the afflicted and the Christ of love and tolerance. And this shall be a sign unto you: you shall find the infant wrapped in swaddling clothes, and laid in a manger. And suddenly there was with the Angel a multitude of the heavenly army, praising God and saying, "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men."

And they came with haste and found the infant lying in the manger. And the arrogant within the inn were silenced; and the drone of the ships of destruction, sweeping overhead, was no more, neither were there sounds of distant cannonading. To their ears came only the breathing of the cattle and the first cries of the Christ Child. And they understood the words that had been spoken to them.

A volunteer worker gives a lesson in Christmas package wrapping. The Post office officials ask that all packages be wrapped securely, with the address plainly legible. Thousands of packages are lost each year through lack of care.

Unmapped

The Newlyweds had bought a turkey for Christmas day, and as Newlywed was a novice at carving, his wife insisted on his learning how to carve from the cookery book.

When the turkey appeared on the table, however, the host was plainly at a loss how to begin.

"Why don't you carve it, dear?" asked his wife, anxiously. "You know exactly how it's done."

"Of course I do, love," said Newlywed, "but I can't find the dotted lines!"

Household Hints

The water in which meats and vegetables have been cooked will add flavor and nutriment value to a kettle of soup.

When armored knights met, it was customary for each knight to raise the visor of his helmet as a means of identification. This gesture has come down through all armies in the form of the salute. Traditional, too, is the Army man's preference for Camel cigarettes. With men in the Army, Navy, Marines, and Coast Guard, actual sales records in their service stores show that Camel is the favorite. It's one of the favorite gifts with service men. And though there are Post Office restrictions on packages to overseas Army men, you can still send Camels to soldiers in the U. S., and to men in the Navy, Marines, and Coast Guard wherever they are.—Adv.

Thanksgiving!

Traditional Thanksgiving turkey may this year give way to roast chicken, but the feast can have all the spirit of those you have had in former years. Though your meal may be less elaborate, every food can be done to a turn, the frills may be just as interesting, and your thanks can rise to a new height.

Let the charm of your dinner lie in its simplicity. Get the most out of your food and prepare it to deliciousness. The same vegetables that you had with turkey can go with chicken—if turnip puffs or corn pudding or squash or sweet potato and apples are a tradition in your family.

Prepare your chicken with the same care you would give turkey and it will look as nice and taste just wonderful. It's easy enough to truss chicken properly so that it will look nice. Here's one way of doing it:

Trussing Chicken.

Insert trussing needle through body of chicken below knee joint and pull cord through; continue cord through wings. Tie tightly to hold wings close to body. Stuff neck opening of chicken with stuffing and tuck neck skin under cord. Use another piece of cord, and insert needle through legs' rear joint. Stuff body cavity and truss opening with truss pins or cord. Draw cord from legs around tail piece and tie legs down close to body.

The stuffing is just as important as the chicken itself. Have it not too soggy, not too dry, and well seasoned:

Celery Stuffing.
1 cup finely chopped celery
1 tablespoon minced onion
1 tablespoon minced parsley
1 tablespoon butter or fat
⅛ teaspoon marjoram
⅛ teaspoon celery seed
Salt and pepper
Water or stock
2½ cups bread crumbs

Cook celery onion and parsley in fat for a few minutes. Add other ingredients with enough liquid to hold together and make dressing slightly moist.

Roast Chicken.
4 to 5 pound roasting chicken
Salt (⅛ to ¼ teaspoon per pound)
Stuffing
Melted fat

Singe chicken, clean, wash and dry. Rub inside with salt. Stuff lightly with celery stuffing and truss. Rub surface with unsalted fat. Place on rack in an uncovered roaster, breast up. Cover with layer of fat from body of chicken, then with a clean cloth dipped into melted, unsalted fat. Roast, uncovered, in a slow oven (300 degrees) until tender, basting occasionally with drippings. Season with additional salt when half done.

Remove cloth near end of roasting period and allow to brown. A chicken weighing 4 to 5 pounds requires 30 to 35 minutes per pound to roast. A smaller chicken 40 to 45 minutes per pound.

Cranberry Sauce has a place with all fowl, and especially in the Thanksgiving dinner:

Cranberry Sauce.
3 cups cranberries
1½ cups sugar
1 cup hot water

Put berries, sugar and water into a saucepan and let stand for 5 minutes. Then cook 5 minutes. Remove from range and let stand 5 minutes, then cook for another 5 minutes. Cool and serve with roast fowl.

Now, for the vegetables. You will probably have several kinds in mind such as:

Baked Sweet Potatoes and Apples.
(Serves 4)
2 large tart apples
2 large cold cooked sweet potatoes
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons margarine
¼ cup corn or maple syrup

Core, pare and cut apples in slices. Saute each slice in margarine until nearly soft, browning the pieces thoroughly. Cut potatoes into rather thick slices, sprinkle with salt and place a slice of fried apple on the side of each potato. Arrange in a shallow baking dish, pour syrup over all, dot with butter. Bake ½ hour in a moderate oven until potato absorbs syrup.

Two-Hour Rolls.
(Makes 12 to 16 rolls)
1 yeast cake
½ cup lukewarm water
3 cups all-purpose flour, sifted
1 level tablespoon sugar
1 teaspoon salt
2 heaping tablespoons lard
½ cup milk

Dissolve yeast cake in lukewarm water. Mix dry ingredients, working in lard as for pie crust. Add milk and yeast mixture to make dough. Turn onto a floured board and knead well. Roll and cut into any shape. Let rise 2 hours. Bake 20 minutes in a hot oven (425 degrees).

Your choice for dessert may be a pumpkin pie, or perhaps an old-fashioned steamed pudding with lemon sauce:

Steamed Pudding.
(Serves 6)
1 cup bread crumbs
½ cup sour milk
¼ cup shortening
½ cup sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla
1 egg
½ cup sifted flour
½ teaspoon baking soda
⅛ teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon cinnamon
½ cup raisins
½ cup chopped nuts

Soften bread crumbs in sour milk. Cream shortening and sugar until fluffy. Add vanilla and blend. Beat egg and combine with milk and crumbs, then add to first mixture. Sift dry ingredients and spices, add raisins and nuts and combine with first mixture. Steam for 1 hour in a greased mold.

Lynn Says:

Conserving Fuel: You'll not only be saving on your own fuel bills but also co-operating with government requests if you save on cooking heat. Here's how:

When using oven, plan to cook several items in it at once. Meat and vegetables, and even hot bread and dessert can all be cooked in oven. It's poor economy to use both oven and surface heat to get a dinner together.

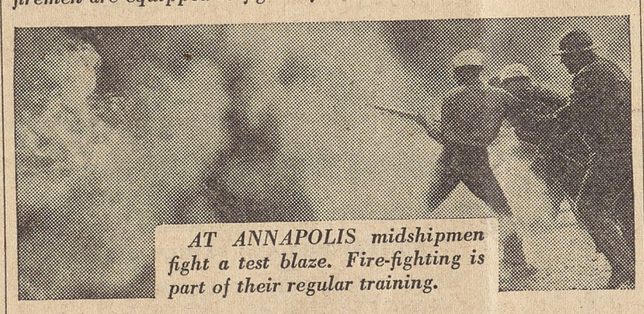

Food should be ready for oven at the same time oven is correct temperature. Do not keep opening oven door to see "how things are coming along."

Firemen of the Fleet

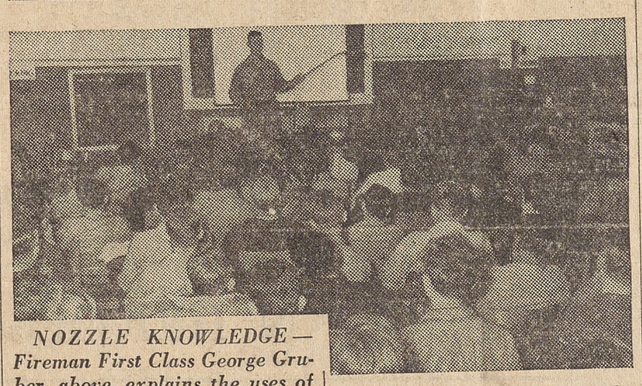

During times of peace or war there is one foe eternally feared by every man that goes to sea—fire. In wartime ship fires reach their maximum deadliness. Ignited by enemy shells or bombs, the flames menace personnel already busy at battle stations. Also, every man called from his post to fight fire gives the enemy that much more advantage. Thus, the navy has founded fire-fighting schools to train specialists in the art of extinguishing fires anywhere aboard ship quickly and methodically. Fire-fighters train aboard imitation ship sections built on land in which fires can be ignited for teaching purposes.

SOOT SUITS might be a proper slang term for these weird looking asbestos suits and oxygen breathing apparatus. These student firemen are equipped to fight a fire below decks.

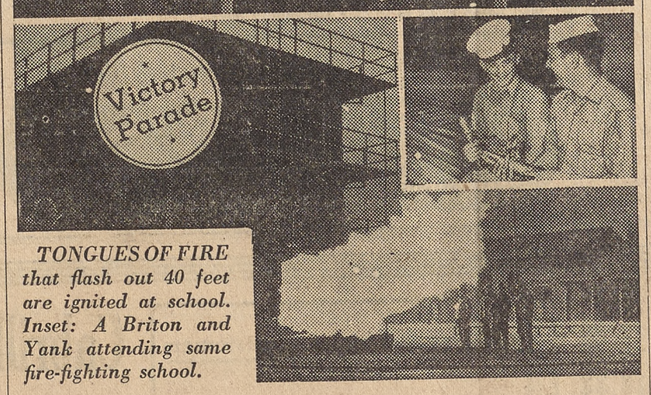

AT ANNAPOLIS midshipmen fight a test blaze. Fire-fighting is part of their regular training.

INFERNO—A member of the fire-fighting school is almost veiled from the camera by smoke arising from a roaring blaze below the decks of a training ship.

TONGUES OF FIRE that flash out 40 feet are ignited at school. Inset: A Briton and Yank attending same fire-fighting school.

DOWN THE HATCH go asbestos clad fire-fighters and soon a blaze spreading below will be out.

They Gave Thanks---

By HELEN BAKER ADAM

She stood beside her door Thanksgiving Day
And closed her weary eyes to all the joy
And warmth within. And to her only boy,
Across the world, she sent a thought so gay
And splendid that he saw her as she stood.
He felt the courage of her, and the strength
Of home. He saw the white and gleaming length
Of company cloth, the plates she saved for good,
The golden row of pies, his special chair.
He smelled the turkey stuffed to bursting brim.
He knew the whispered prayers were all for him.
For one ecstatic moment he was there!

He thanked his God that he could fight for this,
While she gave thanks she had a son to miss.

Tule Lake Fiasco

The Tule lake internment camp which has long been simmering with unrest finally boiled up and "ran over" a few weeks ago with the result that the War Relocation Authority was forced to call upon the army to put down disorders and protect lives and property. The army search was said to have uncovered two short wave sending and receiving stations said to be powerful enough to reach Tokyo. A large supply of weapons was also found.

The WRA apparently has been far too lenient with these subversive Japanese and the army should be kept in control there. There should be no desire to abuse the internees, but they should not be allowed to abuse overseers or Japanese with true American inclinations. A firm hand is needed up at Tule lake.

AMERICAN HEROES
BY LEFF

The South Pacific Aerial Exploits Cross has been awarded to First Lt. William P. Campbell, U. S. M. C., of Minneapolis for his solo bombing attack against five Jap transports and ten destroyers. While ship and shore batteries concentrated all their fire against him, filling the air with flak, he dive-bombed the ship formation, blasted a transport with a direct hit. The War Bond you buy today will help load bomb racks to shatter Jap supply lines.

Lights always seem to go out at the most embarrassing moments. It's good common sense to keep a few extra fuses on hand for just such emergencies.

But remember this - that fuse blow-out had a cause - it didn't just happen.

So look for the trouble and try to remedy it. Perhaps you are overloading by putting too many appliances and lights on the same circuit at the same time, or perhaps you've let a cord get twisted and broken.

In any event, check up before you put in a new fuse - it may save another blow-out - they are as easy to replace as light bulbs.

KEEP EXTRA FUSES ON HAND!

See Here, Private Hargrove!

by Marion Hargrove

W.N.U. SERVICE

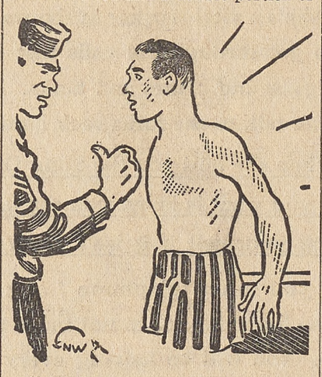

THE STORY SO FAR: Private Marion Hargrove, former feature editor of a North Carolina newspaper, has been inducted into the army and is spending his training period at Fort Bragg. If you're going into the army, Hargrove advises a pre-induction period of "painting the town red." Once you wear the khaki "keep an open mind," he says, "for the first three weeks are the hardest." Having failed to master some of the fundamentals of army life, Hargrove has spent considerable time on KP duty. He has been classified as a cook. Thus he is fully familiar with the Company kitchen. Also a period of field maneuvers have made him familiar with sunburn. He is now undergoing treatment for this.

For once I have gone on sick call for purposes other than goldbricking. This, time it was for sympathy, tenderness, and sunburn lotion. I got the sunburn lotion. Since then I have been confined to quarters—a pathetic, lorn creature wandering about the squadroom in a minimum of clothing and a glow of brilliant red light.

Things are getting fairly comfortable for a while. The poet Droschnioop and the happy warrior Menza applied the ointment with tender care. Private Sher was asked to snaffle a sandwich from the mess hall and returned with a laden tray, replete with iced tea and a double portion of dessert. By sitting on the floor on my heels, I was even able to start reading the novel that has been taking up space in my foot locker for weeks.

But night must fall. In a case like this, where you're packed in grease like a boxed rifle, it's best to place one layer of newspaper between sheet and blanket. After lying there for a while, listening to the newspapers crackle exactly like burnt flesh every time you twist in agony, you feel the urge to sit up and look at some real stars.

They're drafting honest, respectable, hard-working soldiers back into civilian life now, as you probably read in the papers. Has-beens at twenty-eight, these good boys are turned into the pasture under a selective retirement system. It's interesting to watch the way they take it.

Our big loss in Battery A came Tuesday when Joe Gantt went back to Liberty, South Carolina, after five months in the citizen army. Joe is the nice corporal who looked like the soldier pictures in the magazines, used an instinctive psychology in handling his men, and knew every man in the battery as a friend.

He was on furlough last week when he was ordered to return at once to the battery. He came back, started through the discharge routine and went about hugging everybody with what looked like unbounded joy.

Then he started getting quieter and less demonstrative. He had been relieved from active duty for the remainder of his stay here—a matter of four or five days—and when the men fell out for calisthenics or drill, Corporal Gantt didn't have to go out with them. Every time the whistle blew, you could see a lonesome look creeping into his eyes.

The last time I saw him was Monday at noon, when we fell out for chow. Military procedure was over—thrown in a spontaneous revolution and Joe was drafted to march us to the mess hall. It was his last detail. Halfway to the mess hall, he gave us "To the rear—march! To the right flank—march! To the right flank—march!" and all of the marching commands he had taught us.

He's returning to Liberty now, where he'll fall back easily into the life he left five months ago. But you could have seen from a casual glance that he was going to miss the Army.

I'm a student cook in the Army. Cooks are supposed to have the easiest work and the most comfortable positions the Army affords. Compared to the boys in the gun batteries, the signal corps, the antitank units, we're almost white-collar men.

We student cooks — the future "happiness" boys of the Army—have to get up for reveille at the usual hour, beating the sun to the rise every morning. We get an hour of calisthenics, directed by a noncom who's in good physical shape and expects us to be the same way. Then we drill for an hour, and hell hath no fury like that unleashed on the recreant who doesn't come up to standard in drill. We attend class for two hours and there's no foolishness there.

After lunch, we report to our kitchens, where we work until seven o'clock, taking our trade practically, taking part in the preparation of food for over two hundred hungry and fastidious soldiers. The next morning finds us in our kitchen at three or four o'clock and we stay there until one. We're supposed to have the afternoon off — unless there's something that has to be done in the line of battery duty.

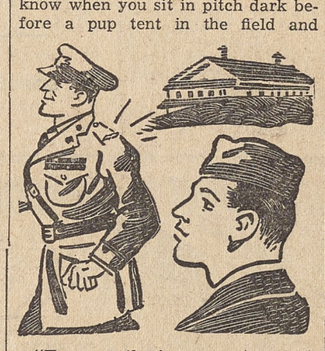

When we leave those kitchens for the afternoon, we go back to our barracks for rest and sleep, which we need badly after the twenty-four-hour shift at huge coal-burning stoves. Reading is a popular diversion during the time, unless you pick up a magazine which tells you what slackers you are because you aren't like the author was in the Real war.

There's a different type of article that is equally nauseating. It tells of the poor little soldier boys, who give up everything to go into training thousands of miles from mother's lap and who will have to spend their time leaning against urban lampposts—because nothing is being done for their morale.

You're talking about entertainment, Gertrude—not morale. In the matter of entertainment, there's plenty of that to be found, even if it isn't like being back home toasting marshmallows with Her. There's so much being done here for entertainment that you can't get halfway to the Service Club without being drafted for a battery show or a volleyball game.

Morale is the spirit that gets you when you're out on the regimental parade ground with the whole battalion for retreat parade. Every mother's son there wants to look as much the soldier as the Old Man does. Not another sound can be heard before or after the one-gun salute to the colors or when the band crosses the field to a stirring march in the Display of the Colors. And when your battery passes in review before the colonel, you're firmly convinced that there isn't another battery on the field that makes as good a showing as your battery.

It's the enormous feeling you know when you sit in pitch dark before a pup tent in the field and watch the Fort's searchlight cut the sky. It's the feeling you know when you can look across a great space and see long lines of Army trucks moving along every road you can see.

"Every mother's son wants to look as much the soldier as the old man does."

That's morale. Just a matter of pride.

The good earth on which Fort Bragg is situated is laden with tradition, ghosts of the glorious past, the old culture — and little else. Beautiful as it may be for purposes of military training, it has little interest in helping the little green things to grow. Grass and flowers, planted with loving care in the Sandhills dust, fade but too soon if left to shift for themselves. To nourish such vegetation, the cavalry units furnish the more aesthetic batteries with certain surplus commodities.

Private McGlauflin, Roff, and I had spent the better part of the morning with Corporal Cleveland James Farmer, heaving and hauling coal in preparation for the long hard winter, when the top sergeant decided that the borders around the barracks should be given their autumn tonic. We piled back into our truck and sped away to the haunts of the hoss cavalry.

We knew, after a few miles of riding, that we were nearing the cavalry territory. There was a certain unmistakable quality about the atmosphere. Something New Had Been Added.

The hoss cavalry, it must be said, takes great pains with the care and distribution of its vitamin deposits. As far as the eye can see the eye can see orderly, cubical mounds covered with straw and earth. None but the most deserving criminal offenders—men who have earned their letter ("P" for "prisoner") are permitted to serve in the maintenance division of this essential agricultural enterprise.

We three—McGlauflin, Roff, and I —stood high on the crest of a hill, loading the truck with its precious cargo, commenting on the invigorating quality of the air, and pausing ever and anon to lean on our pitchforks and listen to the conversation of other workers about us.

Some there were who could not see the importance of the service they were rendering; others spoke disparagingly of the place and bitterly cursed man's best friend, the horse. Two soldiers who shared a single pitchfork at the next truck spent all their time discussing the comparative beauties of the music of Liszt and Tchaikovsky, proving that art endureth forever even in an alien atmosphere.

As for myself, I gloried in the honor of the tradition I was helping to carry out. My mind drew pictures of the philosopher Ward Beecher Threatt, who boasts that he carried a pitchfork through the heat of the fiercest battles throughout the last war.

We made three trips to the cavalry barnyard before we had finished enriching the earth about the orderly room, the mess hall, and the four barracks of Battery A. We bathed vigorously and dressed for early dinner.

The mess sergeant met us at the door. He sniffed the air delicately and quietly closed the door in our faces. Then he made the rounds, closing the windows nearest us. "Git!" he said.

We went back to the barracks, where we found our comrades returned from the classroom. We sat down on our foot lockers and strove to remain as inconspicuous as possible. Private Sher was the first to speak.

"Do you smell something?" Private Sher asked with unaccustomed rudeness. Everyone, it seemed, smelled something. It was not, they decided, Chanel Number Five. It was not My Sin or Evening in Paris. One of the citizen-soldiers, who had once worked in the stockyards, knew what it was.

When the hunt came nearer, Privates McGlauflin, Roff, and I arose and quietly left the squadroom and quietly sat by the newly invigorated grass borders outside.

Maybe I spoke too soon when I denied the sissiness charges by magazine writers. It must be admitted, after yesterday's horrible disclosure, that some termite is boring from within us. Some force is sapping the rugged manliness of Battery A.

Here's what happened at supper yesterday evening. First of all, when we neared the end of the chow line, we found one of the cooks there, scooping ice cream out of a can. We are meat-and-potato men in Battery A and generally we do not take to such frilly fanciness as ice cream, although we occasionally humor the mess sergeant by letting him buy it in ready-cut blocks.

This time, we found, he had gone too far. Our leniency and intolerance in letting him buy ice cream had gone to his head. Now he was making it at home—in the respectable kitchen of Battery A! Homemade pineapple ice cream!

I didn't say anything about it. I thought that perhaps he was merely going through his second childhood, and second childhood is something that every mess sergeant must be permitted to go through once. Realizing this, we boys hadn't said anything when our mess sergeant had air-conditioning fans put in the kitchen windows to make nambypambies of the cooks and kaypees. We hadn't said anything when he started keeping jam on the table at all meals.

We're going to have to say something now. The man is going absolutely mad. Not content with springing homemade ice cream on us, he had to heap more coals on the fire of our impatience at the same meal.

There on each table in our mess hall, brazenly placed in the very center, was a shiny container filled with paper napkins!

There on each table in the mess hall was a shiny container filled with paper napkins.

Until something is done about the thing, this mess sergeant will go hog-wild. At his present rate, we'll find toothpicks on the table next week, salad forks the week after that, finger bowls before November.

This will go on indefinitely until his brain is completely destroyed by this madness. Then he'll start planning to surprise us with waitresses dressed in field-artillery red.

When this happens, I shall try to volunteer for the parachute troops.

No matter how homey they make the Service Clubs, no matter how carefully they plan the movie programs, no matter how hard they work on athletic schedules, they'll never be able to compete with a soldier's favorite evening recreation—sitting on the back steps, shooting the breeze.

Fashion Is in Mood for Swank Accessories and Handsome Furs

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

THIS is a season when you are supposed to dress up your basic costume with dramatic accessories and stunning fur pieces. If you have been saving a choice bit of fur, thinking that sometime it might be used to trim a suit or fashion a hat, now's the time to hand it over to your furrier or your milliner. Tell her to make you up something fetching in the way of handbag, hat, scarf or muff to wear with your suit or coat, your one-piece dress or your loveliest evening gown.

Don't throw away the tiniest swatch of fur, for even the most insignificant little piece can be fashioned into a cunning bow to wear on the lapel of your cloth coat, or to pin on the pocket of your tweed jacket. If you are clever you can make your own little fur novelties out of tidbits of seal, Persian lamb, mink or gray lamb.

There's lots doing this winter among designers who vie with each other as to who can turn out the most strikingly original ideas in hat and muff or hat and bag sets, and special emphasis is being placed upon the importance of stole-like neckpieces.

Best dressed women regard a stole of choice fur as being a necessary luxury this season, be it of the simple type to wear with one's smart tailleur, or the more elaborate sort for evening wear. Of the latter sort is the exquisite white fox fur which imparts drama to the lovely white gown centered in the illustration. That fashion is in a mood for swank accessories is seen in the hair ornament made of strands of white satiny glass beads. Following the Chinese influence, it is balanced at each side, as if in salute to our ally.

With a gray suit, milady to the left in the picture wears a black scarf fox turban and a stole that converts into a muff. It may be worn as a scarf with the ends forming a muff, or it can be carried as a muff with long stole ends. This scarf-muff novelty, so practical and so wearable, is typical of the clever things being done with fur.

The suit itself is a two-piece of gray wool soft as rabbit's fur. An especially important style message is conveyed in the black silk braid that trims the pocket and front of the five-button high-closing jacket. Chapters could be written in regard to the lavish use of braid trimming, as it appears this season on dresses, hats, bags and coats. Even the cuffs of gloves are braided. You can buy neat little cuff-and-collar sets that are allover braided, which are nice to have in reserve when you need a touch to make an old dress look new.

Ensemble sets of black velvet which are quite the rage this season team "this and that" together in such fascinating "sets" as the huge black velvet bag, hat and gauntlet glove combination pictured in the group. The hat has a lace brim piped in velvet. The bag is enormous, as most bags are this year.

You can do a lot with a little when it comes to even a few inches of black velvet. For instance, you can make a little velvet patch pocket, and in jet beads trace your initial thereon. Display this as a breast pocket on your simple black daytime dress. It is well to have a big velvet bow in your accessory collection, for these bows are worn like a corsage, sometimes with a glittering brooch or clip.

Perfect for dinner and dancing with the new short evening gowns, is the accessory set shown in the inset. The fact that it is in black and white is significant, for again a sudden flair for black and white springs up in fashion circles. The hat is of white fox fur, trimmed with black wings. A black and white fox muff complements the hat.

Braid-Trimmed Hats

Newest of the new winter felts bring tidings of braid-trimmed hats. Perfect for wear with tailored clothes is a hat of gray felt as shown above. It is very outstanding because of the fact that it is trimmed with black braid, which is big news. The vogue for braid trims is becoming increasingly interesting, since designers are making lavish use of braiding this year on everything from dresses and coats to handbags and hats. The high peaked crown of the other model shown reflects Russian influence.

Lapel Pins Are Made Of Colored Leather

Birds and animals are being copied in miniature done in gay leathers for the newest lapel pins. Birds of paradise are in gold kid trimmed with scallops of green and red and finished off with a single real feather. A flamingo spreads long pink tail feathers, its plumage made of fragments of kid. The parrot is the sauciest specimen of all, done in green leather with yellow and red contrasts. This new leather jewelry also includes animals, such as a big white leather circus horse, a toy elephant and so on. Schoolgirls like to wear these on their jackets or at the neckline of their smart long sweater.

Collar and Cuffs Now Get Designers' Attention

Not long since it was pockets that were featured as the center of attraction in coat dress and blouse styling. But if you will take sharp note as you saunter through fashion displays you will observe that it is collar and cuffs upon which designers are now focusing their creative genius. It will be interesting to keep tab on this movement. A dress, for instance, will be sans trimming except for glittering sequin collar and cuffs. New too, are the braided collar and cuff sets.

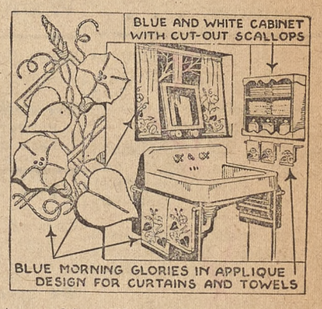

Lace-Trimmed Calots

Both small and brimmed velvet hats are enchantingly trimmed with lace that tunes beautifully to gala occasion. These black velvet fantasies are most alluring and the tiny calot and bonnet types with their mantilla like lace drapes or halo veils of sheerest Chantilly are most alluring.

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

It was not until almost 300 years after Columbus that first commercial use was made of rubber. Native rubber articles — play balls, bowls, bottles, hats, capes and shoes—were brought to Spain and Portugal from various parts of Central and Northern South America years before the commercial merits of rubber were realized.

A rapidly growing army of more than 500 rubber-growing specialists from the U. S. is now in the Amazon rubber district expediting the collection of crude rubber and conquering the leaf disease that has taken severe toll of the jungle trees.

IMPRESSIVE EASTERN STAR INSTALLATION

Point Loma chapter 490, Order of the Eastern Star, seated officers Saturday night at impressive installation ceremonies in the school auditorium, in the presence of a large gathering of members and friends. Installing marshals, Virginia Putney and Mathilda Peebles, escorted Harry Sweet into the chapter room and he gave the welcoming address. He then directed the marshals to invite the installing officers, Gertrude Angert and Edgar Hastings to enter, and introduced them as installing worthy matron and worthy patron.

The American flag was carried by David Cobb and the pledge of allegiance was given by the assembly.

The marshals were invited by the worthy matron to escort the officers-elect into the reception hall, followed by an accordion solo, "Czardos" played by Ronald Wisley.

Olive Sweet, wearing cerise chiffon and gardenia corsage, bore the Bible into the room. It held gardenias on its open pages and falling white ribbons. Flanked by Marshal Putney, in powder blue and pink carnation corsage, and Marshal Peebles, in pale blue taffeta and pink carnation corsage, sister Olive placed the Bible on the altar, where five lighted tapers in gold star holders, shed a soft glow.

Paul Nielsen, played the lovely "Ave Maria" by Schubert as a flute solo. Grand officers, present and past matrons, matrons and patrons of the Eastern Star were escorted to the east by the marshals at the invitation of Gertrude Angert, worthy matron.

Introduced were: Isabella Hilditch, grand conductress; Anie R. Sivel, Marie Darcy, and Daisy Sweetwood, deputy grand matrons; Clara McGaw, and Edna Barkey, of La Jolla; Gail B. Goss and James B. Sears of Chula Vista; George Robbins of Southern Star; Margaret Susan Reinfrank, Mary C. Lee, Olive Sweet, Gladys Nelson, Harry Sweet, Wiliam Nelson, Joe Lownes, Edgar Hastings, David Cobb, and Leroy Lee, of Point Loma. Harold K. Rankin, worshipful master of Point Loma lodge, F.&A.M.

Following an address by Gertrude Anger, Olive Sweet, installing chaplain, gave the opening prayer. Marshal Putney announced the officers to be invested with the badges of their stations. Each, as their name was called, formed a background around the altar. The obligation was given by Edgar Hastings.

In a beautiful heavenly blue gown, featuring satin bodice with deep net yoke and full net skirt, and carrying an old fashion bouquet of deep pink roses and blue starched net, Fern Herbst was duly installed worthy matron by Gertrude Angert. All other officers were becomingly gowned in moonstone dusty pink satin with full skirts of net appliquied in satin flowers. Their bouquets were fashioned with pink carnations and blue starched net.

Before sister Fern took her station in the East, Naomi Thompson sang "Just For Today," and "The Lord's Prayer," following the installation of Leroy Lee by Edgar Hastings. Jean Harvey Brown, accompanied the musical numbers.

Gertrude Angert installed Agnes Driskill, associate matron. Marshals Putney and Peebles presented Ella Cole as secretary and Verna Trushinski as treasurer for installation.

Isabella H. Hilditch, grand conductress, installed Jeannette Croft, conductress and Elizabeth Essex, associate conductress.

Olive Sweet installed Melba Belcher, chaplain and Mary Mayfield, marshal. Eva Swetland was installed organist by Edgar Hastings. Marshals Putney and Peebles were invited by Olive Sweet to present for instalation, Catherine Conklin as warder and Adelaide Calvery as sentinel, wearing dusty pink and heavenly blue respectively.

The Star points, the five rays of the central star, were installed by Edgar Hastings: Adah, Carol Freet; Ruth, Ruth Cobb; Esther, Nellie Kidwell; Martha, Gladys Wilcox; Electa, Grace Mayers.

Gertrude Angert presented the charter and other treasured possessions to the worthy matron and Leroy Lee presented a gavel to her, after which she instructed Marshal Putney to proclaim the officers duly installed.

Fern Herbst expressed her appreciation for the high honor bestowed upon her by Pt. Loma chapter, and introduced members of the Hazel Lane association. Leroy Lee thanked all those who took part in the services and introduced the associate patrons and their wives.

Gertrude Angert, wearing aqua blue brocaded silk and holding a heart-shaped bouquet edged with pale pink net and centered with pink carnations and gardenias, graciously thanked her officers and the chapter for a wonderful year as matron, her husband for the lovely bouquet and ended her remarks with the following expression:

"Now another year is starting—
May I, as the years unfold
Learn that art of greatest value:
Make new friends and keep the old."

Edgar Hastings complimented the new members who are to take an active part. Isabella Hilditch voiced her happy privilege, installing the conductress and associate conductress, and the enjoyment of the music and ceremonies. She especially liked the beautiful gowns and flowers, and wished all present an enjoyable year, saying "For Thanksgiving this year, be thankful you are an American and give thanks for what you have."

Anie Sivel erpressed her gratitude as a member of the Eastern Star and to be an American.

Under the leadership of Fern Herbst and Leroy Lee, Harold Rankin said the chapter would prosper. That Pt. Loma lodge and the Eastern Star are in pleasant unity.

To the strains of "End of a Perfect Day," Gertrude Angert, accompanied by Edgar Hastings, closed the Bible and extinguished the tapers, bringing the ceremonies to a close. Helen Parks provided the musical background and Gertrude Angert was general chairman.

Appointive officers for the new year will be Madeline Sarr, flag bearer; Gertrude Angert, Minnie Kidwell, Walter Kidwell, examining committee; Jean Walker, Ethel Rogers and Leroy Lee, finance committee.

An informal party for the 1944 officers, their husbands and all assisting members, was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Herbst, following the services.

News of Ocean Beach Women's Club

The largest attendance of the year greeted Miss A. Bess Clark, instructor of English at Point Loma high school, as she addressed the literatures department of the Ocean Beach Women's club on Monday evening, Nov. 22 at the home of Mrs. Bessie Harrison and Julia McGarvey. In her customary dynamic manner Miss Clark revieved the much publicized "Under Cover" by John Roy Carlson. The book bears the sub-title "My Four Years in the Nazi Underworld of America—The Amazing Revelation of How Axis Agents and Our Enemies Within Are Now Plotting to Destroy the United States."

Miss Clark explained that the volume is not to be considered literature but rather a carefully documented presentation of facts which must not be ignored. Photostatic copies of letters involving men in high places in our government and industry abound.

Interesting discussion and comments followed during the pleasant social hour while the hostess Julia McGarvey assisted by members served dainty refreshments.

Mrs. Virginia Long, chairman of the department, expressed the gratitude of the group to the speaker and hostess of the evening. She announced the next meeting—the traditional Christmas party at the home of Miss Kate Spani on Monday eve, Dec. 13. As these are always joyous occasions, a large attendance is expected. Participants are requested to bring Christmas gifts for the grab bag, to the value of 25c.

Giovanni, recently of Fort Rosecrans where he was honorably discharged due to a back injury, plans to present a concert at Albuquerque in Dec., and New Orleans in Jan.

Sharing birthday congratulations at the gay party were Col. George Springer and his daughter. Joline Border. Giovanni, recognized by one of the musicians, a cello player, was called upon for a song. Luis Colombo, music critic of the Italian paper of San Francisco, seated at another table, applauded the singer, who responded with two encores. George McKeon, also sang and wrote two songs while attending the party.

One was written complimenting Virginia Hollineck of Miami, Fla., and the other for a beautiful blonde seated at the Colombo table. George wrote seven songs during his five-day stay in Hollywood and left 15 songs with the renowned song writer, Walter Donaldson.

Sunday Wedding In Baptist Church

A beautiful ceremony set in the Baptist church, on Sunset Cliffs blvd., united in double ring ceremony Miss Hazel Cooksey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cooksey of Springfield, Mo., and Frank Truax jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Truax, Waterloo, Ia., at 3 o'clock Sunday, Nov. 21, Rev. P. O. Jenson read the service. Candelabra lighted the scene and pastel chrysanthemums flanked the altar.

The wedding music was provided by Mrs. John W. Baker, singing, "Oh! Promise Me," Durwood Wall, singing, "I Love You Truly," and Bell Stone who sang "Because," Mrs. Mary Webster was organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Charles Roetke, was exquisitely gowned in embossed white satin. A pearl halo held her finger-tip veil and she carried a talisman rose bouquet.

Mrs. Ralph Scott, the bride's sister, matron of honor, wearing aqua satin and chiffon carried a bouquet of pink roses. Other attendants were Mrs. Joe Hume in soft pink chiffon, and Mrs. Wesley Beerwinkle wearing orchid taffeta. Both carried pink rose bouquets.

Walter R. Miller, the bridegroom's brother-in-law, served as best man, and ushers were Ralph Scott, Wesley Beerwinkle, Wallace Brewer and Thomas Bond.

After a honeymoon trip north the newlyweds will reside here. For going away the bride wore aqua rabbit-hair wool sport dress with matching topcoat and alligator accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. James Oliver entertained at turkey dinner on Thursday. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Joel Robinson, house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Crownover and daughter, Carol Jane of National City; Mrs. John Sullivan and daughter Clara of Coronado.

At some of the camps Japanese evacuees had turkey for Thanksgiving and will have more turkey for Christmas and New Year. Would that our blessed boys, who are prisoners, could fare half as well,—little or no nourishment is derived from fish heads.

VICTORY'S SONS

ONLY the Russians ever really do it, he had heard. Sometimes a Russian pilot, with cold fury, will skin close enough to a Nazi plane to strike it and disable it. It's a risky stunt, though, often fatal to both pilots.

Lt. Jack Bade of the U. S. Air Corps had heard this. He doesn't think it's so dangerous, though, for he has twice clipped Jap planes, and lived to tell about it!

He was returning from an observation flight over Bougainville island in the southwest Pacific, when he saw a pack of Jap fighters pouncing on three U. S. Navy bombers. Darting straight at the Zeros, he forced them to turn aside again and again, until their formation was broken. More than once he clipped a piece out of a yellow wing or fin.

Again, he was limping home, his head bleeding, and his plane disabled, when he saw a Zero tailing a Navy bomber. Once again he flew right into the Jap and completely unnerved the "dauntless" Nipponese with his "buzz-saw" tactics.
